A key benefit of membership is access to and use of the library in the Institute as well as those in the University of Edinburgh. Use of the library is governed by a set of regulations a full copy of which can be found on the University website. The key points to note are shown below.

1. Membership cards are non-transferable.
2. All issued items are to be returned to the specific library site from which they are borrowed.
3. A scale of fines exists for late returns.
4. Any user who fails to return an item may be liable for the cost of replacement.
5. Users must comply with any relevant legislation applied relating to e.g. Intellectual Property including copyright and data protection.
6. Members will be contacted by email as the main method of communication.

Please confirm you accept these points by signing your name below.
